GRANDCHILD: <flustered> It's too hard!

GRANDFATHER: You think this is hard?! You know how hard it was when we moved to Canada?

An earshot away, GRANDMA (60s), DAD(around 35) and their pre-teen GRANDDAUGHTER, Nannan, are setting the dinner table. Whispering amongst themselves—

DAD: <whispering> Here we go.

DAD interjects with a harrumph. GRANDMA smiles, amused.

GRANDFATHER: No bank account. No credit card. And couldn't invest. The number of places we had to go for this!

GRANDMA: Actually, we just went to TD. And we got everything we needed in one place.
