SLATE:

First and last name. City.

SCENE 1:

You're dressed in a night robe but hold it close to your body like it's a trench coat. You enter your bathroom like it's a spy armory. You open the medicine cabinet dramatically—inside is your trusty CPAP mask.

You pick up the mask and hold it in your palms. You nod and say the following line with determination:

ACTOR LINE: This'll do.

SCENE 2:

You're in bed with your mask on. Your hands are folded across your chest. You open one eye to the camera.
